

A Feeling

We're most engaged when we feel understood, supported, appreciated and above all valued.

This week, focus on the moments when you can show each person in your team just how much they matter.

Check out how much it affects the way they and our patients end up feeling.