

Create Experiences

The personal touch is what makes the NHS different from almost any other workplace.

What we stand for is sparked in the moments, the stories and the experiences that helped our patients and their family members... in ways they'll never forget.

Look out for more of those moments this week.

Take personal action to make someone else love what you did for them.