

Building healthier teams

I'm open-minded, curious and fair.

This one's hard to do when we're under pressure, feel stretched or when there simply isn't enough time in the day.

At the same time, each one is a choice... and comes with a decision to try and think that way, even if the external environment doesn't promote it.

Make the right choices in your leadership today.