

Building healthier teams

I take responsibility, I'm willing to do brave things and I'm always learning.

Responsible

Brave

Learning

Think about the combination of those words for a second - how would someone being all those things carry themselves as they went about their business?