

Advice vs. Feedback

If you're asking for feedback and hitting a brick wall, try asking for advice instead.

It doesn't carry any of the "baggage" that the word feedback does. It's welcoming, a lending hand and an open invitation.

Try it with your team and see what a difference it can make.