

When To Praise?

Too many people wait too long to praise.

Don't wait for someone to master a new skill, behaviour or way of working.

Praise progress, effort and the journey. Small wins build the momentum and morale that's indicative of a great team.