

Compliments

When someone pays you a compliment, a sincere, genuine compliment, it stays with you.

We all appreciate compliments, yet, rarely, we often give them. Particularly when it comes to work.

Showing appreciation to your colleagues and peers is integral to all of us feeling connected and engaged with our work. Try looking for an opportunity this week to compliment someone in the Trust and watch their face light up.