

Celebrate progress

It's easy to focus on what's next, but milestones matter. Take time to highlight and celebrate what's been achieved—big or small.

This week, identify a win for each team member and be specific when recognising their efforts. Publicly celebrate progress during team meetings or write a personal note of appreciation. Reflect on how consistent recognition creates momentum and positivity.