

Building healthier teams

Simplify to amplify

Complexity often slows progress and drains resources. This week, review your team's workflows to identify areas of inefficiency or overcomplication.

Ask yourself and your team: What's taking longer than it should? Where can we eliminate unnecessary steps or duplicate efforts? Simplifying even one process can free up energy and creativity for more impactful work.