

Permission to Stop

It's hard to pause when everything demands attention.

But stopping is part of leading well.

Give yourself and your team permission to slow down when needed.

Protection is as important as progress.